

The Netherlands Institute for Academic Studies in Damascus (NIASD) invites you to participate in its new

Summer Course Intercultural Communication

Damascus, 27 June – 8 July 2010

With housing from 18 June (12h00) until 12 July (12h00)!!!

Course fee: 700 Euro (with basic accommodation), 850 Euro (with apartment accommodation) or 550 Euro (without accommodation).

Special course fee for Syrian, Iraqi or Jordanian students based in Syria:
13000 Syrian Pounds (without accommodation).

- improving awareness of your communicative behaviour in intercultural contexts, including the functional, expressive and emotional aspects of it;
- recognizing and understanding the factors of success and failure in intercultural communication;
- learning to communicate and act effectively in intercultural settings, specifically with regard to:
 1. informal personal communication;
 2. communication between professionals and clients;
 3. communication in organizations.

This course is open to:

- Dutch bachelor and master students of research universities and universities of applied sciences, irrespective of their field of study;
- Syrian, Jordanian, Lebanese or Iraqi bachelor and master students, based in Syria, irrespective of their field of study;
- Other bachelor and master students, irrespective of their field of study.

For more information see: www.niasd.org

Application deadline: 15 April 2010 !!!